

Open Letter about Calculating the Last Seven for anyone to read:

I have great news. For the last year I have been waiting on Yahuweh/Yehovah to show me how he wants his word on the 70 sevens released publicly in my book Calculating the Last Seven. It is really his word, because I only discovered what Yahuweh/Yehovah already wrote into Scripture; I did not come up with something new that had not already been written down in the book of Daniel for 2,500 years that anyone can see. I cannot lay any claim to it, because anyone could have discovered the same thing that I did, since it was already there. And just yesterday things supernaturally came together suddenly and now I have made Calculating the Last Seven is available to read and download for free at this link on Internet Archive: <https://archive.org/details/calculatingthelastsevenebook> Or at this page at my website: <https://www.calculatingthelastseven.com/book-purchase>

The Calculating the Last Seven book started out with me just trying to find out how and according to what method the dates in Scripture were originally recorded and understood by the original authors who wrote them down, and how to understand the prophecy of Daniel's counting of 70 sevens in the context of how Scripture records dates according to the calendar that Yahuweh/Yehovah records in Genesis and Exodus that he uses for counting time. Book 6 or Part 6 inside of the book is where I go through the detailed process and calculations and record within Scripture itself where I was able to find proof within Scripture that every date in Scripture recorded up to the time of Ezra at least are all exact and precisely recorded year dates that have no margin of error whatsoever. They are so accurate it is actually an awesome and scary thing just how accurate each date is recorded to exact years in Yahuweh/Yehovah's calendar of counting time.

I show all of my calculation work in the book so that it can be used primarily as a study guide for anyone to go through all of the calculations and research for themselves with all of the references and resources. This way no one has to take my word for anything; they can go through all of the calculations for themselves and make up their own minds and come to their own conclusions about everything. It was in the middle of researching the years that in 2017 I stumbled across intricate patterns of sevens of years that count in logical ways throughout the years recorded in Scripture and the history of Israel and the Jewish people. I expected the dates to be random without any order, but I discovered that Yahuweh/Yehovah has placed his fingerprint into his events and interventions in history, into even the dates of each event through time where he is interacting with mankind. It shows that even every day and every year Yahuweh/Yehovah has precisely timed out from creation to now as he carries out his process and stages of his plan to save mankind from sin and into eternal life with him. Every single day that he does something interacting and intervening in the lives of men is an appointed day that he planned from creation until he comes to take back the lease he gave to man over the earth.

And also in the midst of the counting of sevens, my sister and I researching together actually found records of dates in recent history from commands to rebuild Jerusalem (which many others have also found in pieces in the last few years) that there are multiple countings of 62 sevens and 7 sevens that all collide into the year

2017. And because I believe Daniel to be a true prophet and the book of Daniel to be a true book of prophecy, I personally have to believe Daniel's prediction that he received from the mouth of Yahuweh/Yehovah in the throne room in heaven that 2024 will be an ending of sin, a beginning of eternal righteousness, a sealing of vision and prophet, and an anointing of the set-apart of set-aparts as Daniel says in chapter 9. Even if we do not understand for certain what that means for sin to end and for the set-apart of set-aparts to be anointed, that is what Daniel is predicting will happen in 2024 at the completion of 70 sevens from the command to rebuild Jerusalem in 1534-1535. This is just the reality of Scripture that we are currently living in, Daniel says that we are in a 70th seven (a last seven) from a command to rebuild Jerusalem, which just happens to be divided precisely between 62 sevens and 7 sevens as Daniel predicted it would be, with the date of the command to rebuild Jerusalem given on September 8, 1968. I do not know why the book of Daniel is predicting that something will happen in 2024 with the ending of sin. And even if we do not really know for certain what that means, that sin will end and eternal righteous will come, whatever it means we can know for certain that Yeshua is coming very soon.

When Yeshua came the first time everyone really thought they had figured out how the Messiah would come, but in the end the only ones who recognized and accepted his coming were the tradesmen and businessmen and the prostitutes and those living deeply in sin who experienced their lives changed into righteousness by Yeshua. The ones who were the religious teachers and scholars, the ones who everyone considered the most righteous and pious, rejected the Messiah, because they had only made themselves look outwardly righteous (even participating in sin against the Torah in an effort to be accepted by society's standard of righteousness) without any desire to be transformed inwardly (as Yeshua discusses throughout the Gospels). The ones who accepted the Messiah were those who threw out their old religious understanding of the person of God, throwing out who they thought Yahuweh/Yehovah was, to get to know him for real, for who he truly is. They came to know the real Yeshua in person and recognized him as the creator of the heavens and the earth who was in the beginning, even when most did not as it says in John 1.

So Calculating the Last Seven is now publicly open and available for anyone to read, and everyone can make up their own minds and come to their own conclusions about its contents and discoveries.

These are exciting and awesome and sobering and joyful days that we are living in,
Miner Perkins
